Hi Madison,

I hope all is well with you. Did I tell you I'm moving home? I need to move out of our flat because the landlord is saying we're going to live with my cousins for a few months. I live far away – in a small village about twenty miles from London. My cousin Joe is a really nice guy. He's the same age as me, has dark hair and brown eyes. My cousin Samantha looks like me. She is tall, with curly hair and green eyes. She's great at cooking and likes to help them.

My cousins' house is ^{it's very} quite large and includes a new kitchen. ^{2. pretty big house} It will still be a bit crowded. There are four bedrooms but I think the extension I think, but I'm going to have it done.

The English language: a bridge between cultures

8/11/2023 0 COMMENTS

English is known to be the "international language", connecting people from different countries and enabling communication in different fields, from business to academic research, from fashion to computers and so on.

Through the "Intensive English Language Course for education staff", a group of teachers from different countries and schools, challenged themselves into the study of this language, with a positive attitude, putting the maximum effort in every activity proposed.

The new edition of the course took place in Palermo from 23/07/2023 to 29/07/2023. We had the pleasure to welcome a group composed by Aleksandra and Paweł from Ogólnopolski Operator Oświaty in Poland, Stéphanie from Ecole Marguerite Picart in France, and five participants from Hungary, from two different schools : Enikő, Livia and Tünde from Nyíregyházi SZC Wesselényi Miklós Technikum és Kollégium and Tamás and Dominika from BMSZC Újpesti Két Tanítási Nyelvű Műszaki Technikum.

During the week, the participants addressed different challenges to improve five fundamental skills: Use of English, listening, reading, writing and speaking.

We started this journey by introducing ourselves and addressing how to describe one's job. The participants were given some starting vocabulary and then we focused a lot on an essential verb: the verb "to be" , also used to describe something or someone, to talk about age, feelings, nationalities, and much more.

Starting from the second day, every morning we did a recap of the new knowledge acquired, through a morning wrap-up activity. Learning a language requires effort and practice. That's why

Welcome to the ELA Blog. Here you will find articles and photos of our courses and have a look at the topics addressed during the week in Bologna, Palermo and Tenerife. You will also have the chance to take a peek at our projects and check out what we have been up to.
